

Abdullah al-Ahsan

Societies hold together when they recognize the dignity of the people inside them, and they come apart when they stop.

THE RECORD

- PhD History, University of Michigan. MA Islamic Studies, McGill. MS History, Quaid-i-Azam.
- Professor, International Islamic University Malaysia, 1990 to 2017. Deputy Dean, ISTAC.
- Director, IIUM Press. Editor, the journal Intellectual Discourse.
- Professor of Comparative Civilization, Istanbul Sehir University, 2018 to 2020.
- Visiting Professor, Virginia Theological Seminary. H.B. Earhart Fellow, Michigan.
- Fellow, Caux Round Table for Moral Capitalism. Former Vice President, Just World International.
- Five books in four languages. More than eighty published pieces. Still publishing monthly.

BOOKS

- Qur'anic Guidance for Good Governance. Palgrave Macmillan, 2017. Co-edited with Stephen B. Young.
- Guidance for Good Governance. IIUM Press and Caux Round Table, 2008 and 2013.
- Ummah or Nation? Identity Crisis in Contemporary Muslim Society. Islamic Foundation, 1992.
- OIC: Introduction to an Islamic Political Institution. IIIT, 1988. Arabic edition.
- A History of Khulafa-i-Rashidun. Iqra, 1995. Reprinted five times.

RECEPTION

“Abdullah al-Ahsan makes an important contribution to the explanation and understanding of these interactions in the context of the Islamic world.”

John Obert Voll, American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences 10:4 (1993), p. 545

“The book also reads well and is well worth reading.”

Abdul Rashid Moten, Intellectual Discourse 1:1 (1993), pp. 94-96

TALKS HE GIVES

- Dialogue or Clash: What the Record Actually Shows.
- Rise and Fall: How Civilizations Come Apart.
- Human Dignity Before Law: Reading the Cairo Declaration.
- The OIC at Fifty and After.
- Eurocentrism and the Method of History.

FORMATS AND REACH

Public lecture 45 to 60 minutes. Graduate seminar or masterclass 90 minutes. Panel or respondent.

Multi-session short course. Press interview and background briefing. Editorial and advisory review.

Taught graduate and undergraduate students in four countries. Presented at the Center for Strategic and International Studies, Washington, 2008, and the Muslim-Christian Dialogue Center, University of St. Thomas, 2008. Based near Chicago. Remote or in person, internationally.

CONTACT AND BOOKING

Invitations, press requests and advisory proposals reach him through the form at

<https://EDIT-DOMAIN/speaking>

His email address is not published. The form reaches him directly and he answers it himself.